

My friends that use XM Radio in other cities depend on traffic information when they want it without the distraction of commercials while driving and having to wait till the "8's" to get this information. XM provides this service as part of my subscription that I pay for. I pay for this service. Don't force me to use commercial radio.